DIXON CITIZENS ASKED TO HELP UNIFORM BAND

Organization in Need of Uniforms; Mayor Palmer Makes Appeal

The Dixon Y. M. C. A. Boy's band, organization of which every citizen is proud and justly should be, is in need of new uniforms. The uniforms, now in use were supplied the members of the band about three years ago by members of the Kiwanis club of this city. They have seen considerable use and the band has increased in numbers until there is not a sufficient number of uniforms to equip the organization. The boys have taken excellent care of the caps and hats which compose the uniform, but in many instances, these are showing wear badly.

A manner in which to secure funds for the re-uniforming of the band has been discussed at some length recently, in view of the fact that the organization is booked for several engagements in and out of Dixon. Mayor Frank D. Palmer today issued the following proclamation at his office to the citizens of Dixon, hoping by this manner to secure sufficient funds to purchase new uniforms for the band:

Mayor's Appeal.

This city is fortunate in having a fine boy's band under the very competent leadership of Earl Sennett, who, although spends his days as mail carrier, devotes his evening's hours to this band, which now consists of about 20 uniformed boys and 20 without uniforms. Uniforms cost $15 or $20. It will take from $300 to $400 to outfit these boys now willing to join the band. Music costs money and there are other minor expenses.

We have a community of about 2,000 families. We are proud of our city. We like to have people come here. We should be proud of our band.

One dollar from each family would finance them in good shape and insure us a band concert once a week during the summer. There may be some families that cannot afford the dollar, then give 50 cents, but come and enjoy the music. There are many families who have been blessed with money, and I believe that they are endowed with enough civic pride to pay for those less fortunate than themselves.

Let us as good citizens who believe this the best city in Illinois, get behind this movement and make our boys band a success and thereby bring credit to our city and encouragement to our boys. Put your money in an envelope with your name and leave it at any of the three banks. The subscription list will be published in the Evening Telegraph.

Yours for a fine boys band,

FRANK D. PALMER, Mayor.

Detective Insists

Policeman was Honest

Detroit, Mich., June 9—(AP)—Walter Darsee, patrolman slain last week who he was said to have attempted to hold up the watchman of a blind pig, was not living beyond his income, William Johnson, detective investigating the slaying, said today.

Johnson pointed to the fact that Darsee was on his way early last Friday morning to negotiate the sale of two land tracts when shot down as proof he was not grafting or hijacking.

According to statements by John Poland, the watchman, Darsee approached Poland with a drawn revolver and was fired at three times by Poland, who believed the patrolman intended robbery.

Darsee was buried yesterday and though the funeral sermon was preached by a Christian minister, no formal police escort was accorded because of the stigma clinging to Darsee's record.

One minister refused to give Darsee Christian burial service, declaring the law of his church prevented giving communion to one who had not been in touch with that faith and who died in an act of committing crime.

Groth Pleaded Guilty: Fired and Sent to Jail

Phillip Groth, residing southwest of Amboy, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to "serve 69 days in the county jail, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing an illicit liquor still before Judge William L. Leech in the county court yesterday afternoon. Groth's farm was the scene of a raid conducted three weeks ago by deputies from the sheriff's office following complaint that he had been selling liquor to minors from Amboy, one of whom became seriously ill from its effects, it was alleged.

Albert P. Lengel, Former Dixon Man, Died This Morning

Albert P. Lengel, former Dixon man, who had many friends in this city, died at Rockford at 3 o'clock this morning, death resulting from cancer. The body will be brought to Dixon for burial with services at the grave in Oakwood cemetery at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

"Bus" Smith to be Decorated at Court of Honor Meeting

Can Alone Save Hoffman, Westbrook from Jail Terms

Chicago, June 9—(AP)—Only a justice of the United Supreme Court willing to act out of session can save Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman of Cook county from immediate occupancy of a cell.

The circuit court of appeals has ordered mandates issued today for the arrest of Hoffman and his former jail warden, Wesley Westbrook, to begin prison sentences imposed seven months ago after it had been found that Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake, beer dealers, enjoyed unusual liberties as prisoners at the county jail.

Hoffman's only recourse from the court's order yesterday, vacating stays or sentence for the two, is a stay in turn of that mandate by a member of the supreme court, pending the consideration by the latter tribunal of Hoffman's application for a certiorari. The supreme court adjourned two days ago until fall. Alfred S. Austrian, Hoffman's attorney, is in Washington and has informed his client that he will seek the stay today.

The Scout Executive is glad to make the following report on the number of Merit Badges "Bus" has to his credit: Art, Agriculture, Athletics, Bird Study, Business, Camping, Carpentry, Civics, Conservation, Cooking, Craftsmanship in Leather, Craftsmanship in Wood, Electricity, First Aid, First Aid to the Handicapped, Handicraft, Life Saving, Pathfinding, Personal Health, Safety, First, Pioneering, Scholarship, Swimming, Textiles, Public Health, and Reptiles—a total of twenty-eight badges.

The Court of Honor is open to the public and every one is invited to attend.

Funeral of Charles Johnson of Polo to Be Held Tomorrow

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, June 9—The funeral of Charles H. Johnson, prominent Poloite, whose death Tuesday morning was announced in The Dixon Telegraph of that evening, will be held at the Methodist church here at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. Harry C. Brown officiating, and with the Odd Fellows in charge of the services. Burial will be in a Palmetto cemetery.

Mr. Johnson was born in Polo Jan. 26, 1857, and except for a few years spent in Wisconsin, his home was always in Polo, where he followed his trade of carpentering. He was married Oct. 10, 1889 to Miss Elsie Strock, who, with six sisters and four brothers, all of whom reside in Wisconsin, survive him.

He was a member of the M. E. church, the Masonic Lodge, O. E. S. I. O. O. F. and Rebekahs, the Nauvoo Encampment of the M. W. A. Many friends tender sincere sympathy to the bereaved widow.

Spoke in Freeport

Robert Hallenberg of the department of public relations of the Illinois Northern Utilities company, whose duty it is to patrol all of the system of lines during all kinds of weather, with a view of preventing any interruption of service, are meeting at the Dixon head offices today. The morning session provided a general round table discussion on efficiency, and the character of equipment used by patrolmen. Vice President E. D. Alexander delivered a short but interesting talk at 11 o'clock and this was followed by a luncheon at the Hotel Dixon at noon.

Twenty-two years ago, Mrs. Van Stone was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. James D. Waterman, of Oregon. She had never seen her mother and not until last week did she learn of her whereabouts.

When Will Blackmer, Creston, died recently, near relatives came to attend the services. Included in the group of relatives was Mrs. Ada Meiss of Barberville, Ohio, a daughter.

He was not until Mrs. Van Stone also went to attend the services of Mr. Blackmer that she met Mrs. Meiss—her mother—who had been living in the Ohio town for many years. The daughter never knew the whereabouts of her mother and the fact that her name was Mrs. Meiss.

Mrs. Van Stone left the Waterman family following her marriage and has been a resident of Rockford for the last six years.

The dwelling was a one-story frame structure of four rooms. The origin of the fire is undetermined.

I. N. U. Given Permit to Build Line to Beloit

The Illinois Public Utilities Commission was granted a permit to the Illinois Northern Utilities company for the construction of a 132,000 volt line from Belvidere to Beloit, Wis., tying in with the Wisconsin Power & Light company. Representatives of the I. N. U. company are now engaged in securing the right of way for the construction of this important extension, which will be started as soon as possible.

A WORD AND A SMILE—

Don't hurry through life with a frown on your face.

And never a moment to spare.

For the word and the smile, that is always worth while.

In a world full of trouble and care.

There are others with burdens as heavy as yours.

Hearts weary with aching and pain,

That are longing to hear just a word of good cheer.

Will you let them be pleading in vain?

Don't feel that misfortune has singled you out.

And made you her own special prey.

For you may be sure there's no home so secure.

But that trouble will enter some way.

There is sunshine for all in this workaday world.

But you'll have to go after your share.

And you'll miss it, of course, if you're hurried and cross.

With never a moment to spare.

And if you have sunshine and love in your home,

If pleasure and plenty abound,

Don't hoard up your store, you'll enjoy it the more.

If you scatter a little around.

For the light of your smile can be seen from afar.

And heaven records its full worth;

Though you whisper your word, yet its echo be heard.

To the farthest ends of the earth.

Enjoy Moonlight Party on Gulf

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Robb, Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Shaw, Miss Christine Sparkman, John Allen of Crystal River, and Miss Ruth Harkinson, H. L. Winfree, Major K. Williams and H. S. O'Dell of Homosassa, Miss Margaret Morrison and Bert Latimer of Inverness, were participants in a moonlight boat party down the Homosassa river to the Gulf last Friday night. The boat was anchored in the Gulf and a delicious moonlight supper was served the guests. Messrs. Allen and Winfree were the genial young hosts for the evening's affair.—Crystal River, Fla., Herald.

MYSTIC WORKERS WILL MEET FRIDAY EVENING

The Mystic Workers will hold a regular meeting in Union hall Friday evening and all members are urged to attend as this will be the meeting at which delegates for the convention at Madison, Wis., will be nominated. After the meeting a picnic supper will be served, and the committee in charge will serve wines and coffee. Those who attend please take their own buns and dishes, potato salad, or cabbage salad, baked beans, pickles or pie. A good attendance is desired.

REBEKAHS TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

There will be a regular meeting of Minnie Bell Lodge Friday night in I. O. O. F. hall. A good attendance is desired.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY.

Breakfast— Orange juice, asparagus omelet, ham muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon— Baked hominy, crisp broiled bacon, cream and mint sandwiches, caramel cookies, rhubarb sauce, milk, tea.

Dinner— Casserole of mutton, boiled new potatoes, beet greens, lemon sponge pie, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Asparagus Omelet. One bunch asparagus, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup water in which asparagus was cooked, 1/2 cup cream, 5 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper.

Wash and scrape asparagus and cut all but four fine stalks into inch pieces—discarding the tough ends. Cook all in boiling water until tender adding the heads after the first ten minutes of cooking. Salt slightly when heads are added. Drain and reserve water. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a smooth sauce pan. Stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add asparagus water, stirring constantly. Add cream or milk and 1 more tablespoon butter. Cook and stir until thick and smooth and add the asparagus cut in pieces. Keep hot over boiling water. Separate yolks from whites of eggs and beat yolks with 4 tablespoons water in which asparagus was cooked until thick and lemon colored. Season with salt and pepper and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Melt remaining tablespoon of butter in hot spider or omelet pan. Turn in egg mixture and cook over a low fire until omelet is well puffed and "set" on the bottom. Finish cooking in the oven. Cover half the omelet with half of the asparagus mixture. Fold and turn onto a hot platter. Place the four whole stalks of asparagus on the top of the omelet and pour remaining asparagus and sauce around it. Serve at once.

Aid Society of St. James Held Meeting

The St. James Ladies' Aid Society met with Mrs. Wm. Meppen Wednesday, June 3rd, with a good attendance. Several of the members were reported ill. Because of the illness of the president, Mrs. Bahen, the meeting was in charge of Edith Bothe.

The meeting was opened by singing a hymn. The Scripture reading was from the 12th chapter of Romans, after which all joined in repeating the 23rd Psalm. A reading by Mrs. Meppen was then enjoyed. After this a bird guessing contest was held with Mrs. Meppen winning the prize.

For the July meeting Mrs. Brendt, Ada Murray, and Annabelle Johnson will have charge of the program.

One new member was welcomed into the society at this meeting.

The next meeting was planned to be held with Mrs. Wiley Shippert with Mrs. Roy McCracken assisting.

The meeting was then closed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

During a social hour Mrs. Meppen, with Mrs. Frank Rhodes assisting, served very delicious refreshments.

WHITE SHRINE MEETING AND PICNIC SUPPER

The members of the Corinthian Shrine will have another delightful picnic supper Friday evening, June 11th. The members may bring one dish of any one of the following articles of food—scalloped potatoes, cabbage salad, deviled eggs, pickles, jelly. The Shrine will furnish the meat, rolls and dessert. For any other information call Mrs. Louis Franks, X1147. After supper a short business meeting will be held. Later the committee in charge will entertain with cards. As this will be the last meeting before the summer vacation, a full attendance is desired.

TO ENTERTAIN BRIDE AND BRIDAL PARTY

Mrs. Tom Burke, Mrs. Martin Lalley and daughters Frances and Genevieve will entertain at a dinner this evening at the new Sheffield hotel in Grand Detour for Miss Imogene Loftus and the members of her bridal party. Miss Loftus on Saturday morning at St. Patrick's Catholic church in this city, will become the bride of Francis Keane.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS TO MEET

The Royal Neighbors will meet Thursday evening in Union hall.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by Allene Sumner

They loved one another some 40 years ago. Circumstances. Each married another. A day or so ago, the two, now widow and widower, married one another. Day after day one sees a story similar to this of James Winning and Mrs. Buchanan Brice, and the answer to its meaning would solve much of the mystery in this thing called love and marriage.

Is there really but one right man for every woman, one right woman for every man? Does Nature distill a curious chemical affinity between a certain two which defies time itself? Or is it true that, given proximity, most any man can marry most any woman, or any woman any man with average chances for happiness.

"I Haven't Time!"

"How I want to do something besides just raise a family and look after a house—I always did think I could write or paint or—!" How many bore sometimes a day we all hear that! It's a truism to say that anyone can do the thing she really wants to do badly enough, but like most truisms true! If you "just can't," what about Ellinor Mordaunt, author of "The Venture" eBook?"

How She Did It!
When I was 20 I went as my cousin's companion to the island of Mauritius, 500 miles east of Madagascar. I married there. Malaria and other plagues followed, and I buried two of my children there. I was ordered back to England to die. Paralyzed all down one side. Two years in bed, unable to move. Doctors said I could never live.

Would Not Die in Bed.

I would not die in bed. I wanted the feel of a ship again, the clean salt winds of the sea. Throwing away my brief hope of life, so the doctors said. I shipped off on board a little sailing vessel for Australia. I left Glasgow the second week in February. We did not sight land until July.

More Death!

"In Melbourne my son was born. In Melbourne my husband died. I was not yet dead but was lame and had to earn a living for myself and boy. I gardened, did anything. There was no relief from the constant work to earn the bare needs of existence. Physical break-downs. Seven years there in Australia away from everyone I knew and never one penny ahead in the bank. I broke my leg. Somehow we managed to scrape together money to go back to England. I broke my leg a second time on ship and it could not be set for five weeks."

How It Ended.

But pink rosy cloud linings at last! Back in England, an editorial job for her! An successful book. Years of roving to feed the wanderlust. Complaints that money could buy. She "didn't have time" either. The difference is that she had to!

Is She Right?

A good complexion gets a woman further than a good education, and women are smart enough to know it. More money is spent on woman's personal beauty today than on public education," says Mrs. Ruth Maurer, beauty expert. She adds that something like $5,000,000 is spent by American women each day for beauty.

thing, there would be fewer sad little girls repenting at leisure the mistakes made in haste.

Anna Mary, writing me of her mother's strictness, has the usual attitude of youth toward its elders—that of bitter rebellion mixed with scorn.

"Why, Miss Grey," she writes, "I'm seventeen, and all the girls I go with are allowed to take care of themselves. My mother is so strict that the boys are almost afraid to make me go anywhere."

"I don't think it's fair for her to spoil my fun like that, do you? My senior hay ride will take place next week, and mother even insists on knowing who the chaperons are, and in talking to them herself."

"It's making me look silly to my friends and I won't stand it much longer."

After all, looking silly to one's friends isn't the worst thing in the world. If your mother can protect you from unpleasant experiences or from real danger, at the cost of some slight embarrassment to you, I should say "well done."

However, I cannot see why your mother's solicitude should make you "look silly." There is no reason why your friends should know about it at all. If you do not choose to tell them, there are always other reasons to give for refusing invitations.

If you have nothing to conceal, it cannot hurt you for your mother to talk with the woman who is to chaperon the hay ride. You may be sure that the chaperon will only have a higher regard for you and your family if your mother does this.

I'm sorry to seem unsympathetic, Anna Mary, but I think you should be a very grateful little girl, instead of a rebellious one.

The kind of mother you have is the best safety insurance I know of.

Miss Dixon Hostess At House Party

Miss Catherine Dixon is entertaining eight girls at a house party at her home, chaperoned by Miss Velma May White. The girls were invited to the party from Tuesday until Friday night. There has been something doing every minute of the time. Last evening the girls formed a theatre party at the Dixon theatre and this evening they will enjoy a picnic and tomorrow anticipate a trip to Sterling. They are enjoying their freedom from school and their happy times at the Dixon home. Miss White is having as much fun as the girls.

MORE DAIRY CATTLE.

This has been the best year since 1920 in point of demand for pure bred dairy cattle. C. S. Rhode of the dairy extension department of the Illinois college of agriculture has reported.

The National Holstein association has received five inquiries this year to one received a year ago. Guernsey, Jersey and Brown Swiss demands have been increased, although not in the same proportion.

Dairy interests did not decline to the degree experienced in general farming operations, but they lagged along with the general depression. It is reasonable to presume that dairying may be overdone in comparison with demand for products, but the time has not yet arrived when the agricultural experts have found it advisable to urge any curtailment. During the last fifteen years efforts have been made to induce more farmers to keep dairy cattle.

In the dairy sections the fertility of the soil has been maintained. The cream check, which comes to the farmer regularly, has been a year-round, dependable income. The dairy farmer kept going when others failed. These are the arguments used by the college authorities in urging an extension of this field of operation.

Grain farming requires less labor. Small grain requires labor at the time of seeding, harvesting and threshing. Corn requires labor at the time of planting, cultivating and picking. When the number of days are computed they are a small part of the 365. The investment is the other large element in the production of grain.

It is the care of stock on the farm that provides the year-round job. The tendency toward less labor has given room for the farmer who is ready to give more labor for more profit. The dairy farmer puts more into his occupation and as a rule gets more out.

The Big Four railroad recently sent a dairy train from Danville to Cairo. Nine calf clubs were organized on this trip, through co-operation of farm bureaus. To them and to clubs previously formed 182 calves were distributed.

LEST WE FORGET.

To be successful there must be common sense and wise diplomacy even in politics. Way back in the old wet days, the wets frequently controlled local, sometimes state elections, when the drys split up, dividing their strength between two or more candidates. Now it is hinted that the Anti-Saloon league and other dry organizations are becoming peeved at the Coolidge administration, though the president is as good a friend as the drys have in important office. Should the president become the republican party candidate for re-election in 1928, the democrats are sure to nominate against him a pronounced wet. Then to elect the wet it will be necessary only for the radical drys to pull away from Coolidge and name a candidate of their own. Such a candidate would have no ghost of a chance of election, but he would become at once a wet assistant of such importance as to assure the election of the wet.

GOSSIP.

Gossips are blamed for the murder of a woman in the town of Beaver City, Neb., said to have been poisoned by a neighbor woman.

The accused woman and her husband had to move twice because of gossips, they told officials, and the wagging tongues seem finally to have led to a misunderstanding that resulted in murder.

There's nothing much you can say about gossip. Everybody condemns it and most everybody does it. There's no way to stop it.

Fortunately, however, really intelligent people don't do it.

Well, another American has gone to the north pole and returned the visit which it paid us last winter.

There are enough amateur golfers in the United States to end the British coal strike.

Woman poisoned her husband in Chicago, but then she had been married to him for fifteen years.

Coolidge, president, went cruising on the Potomac. He's so quiet we would enjoy going fishing with him.

It's a wise pawnbroker who locates next to a bootlegging joint.

Some people are so silly they worry even when they haven't any almost grown daughters.

Hailstones as large as baseballs may have fallen in Dallas, Tex. Anyway, the people there claim they did.

Just about every man we meet hopes to be out of debt along about next fall or by the first of the year.

Uncle Joe Cannon has a birthday now and then, but they never seem to worry him at all.

When you think the world is all wrong the chances are it is because you need a shave or a haircut.

A good sport is a fellow who doesn't mind being worried.

NEW SCHEME TO SUPPRESS CRIME IN THIS NATION

Declaration of Independence in Every Home is Proposed

President Coolidge has issued a proclamation calling for a nation wide celebration of the Sesquicentennial of the Declaration of Independence, during the week, June 28 to July 5. It will be known as Independence Week.

And now forty-eight Governors, Chief Executives of every state in the Union, have joined together in an Honorary Board which has for its object the placing of a facsimile of the Declaration of Independence in every home and school room in the land.

It is part of a movement projected by the U. S. Centennial Association of Philadelphia, under the auspices of the Sesquicentennial Exposition, of which W. Freeland Kendrick, Mayor of Philadelphia, is President, and it is hoped when it gets under full swing that it will go far toward suppressing crime waves and promoting a greater reverence for the old fashioned home.

The roster of the Association includes names of many well known personages, who, alive to what they conceive to be a warning reverence for old fashioned patriotism on the part of the younger generation, are taking this method of reviving it by asking everyone everywhere to help the cause.

By insisting on the preservation of historical memorials, by urging a more intimate knowledge of the Nation's history, by stressing the sacredness of the right of franchise, by arguing the logic involved in observance of all laws—in short, by projecting a campaign of 100 percent patriotism, the Association hopes to erect a new standard of conduct for all citizens that should have potent effect on public morals in general.

Already the movement is attracting attention in widely distant parts of the country. Thousands of letters promising cooperation and support have been received in Association Headquarters in Independence Square, Philadelphia, from which place the movement is being conducted with the idea of making it national in scope.

Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, has already issued a proclamation calling on all the people of that state to "cooperate in distributing copies of the Declaration of Independence to the homes and public institutions."

Governors of other states are arranging to do the same also by the time it gets in full swing it should have a country wide significance.

Letters have been received from fraternal organizations, patriotic societies, banks and trust companies, newspapers, mercantile organizations, which have arranged to hang copies of the Declaration of Independence upon the walls of their offices and who are advertising employees to obtain copies for use in their homes.

It is expected that before the Sesquicentennial Exposition has passed into history, millions of homes will contain a certified copy of the Declaration of Independence and this with the rest of the program now being worked out by the Association will be the beginning of a wave of true Americanism that should have tremendous effect upon the public welfare.

To every person taking part in the movement there will be issued a facsimile of the Declaration of Independence with a certificate that it is an exact reproduction of the original Declaration and that it has been issued by the U. S. Centennial Memorial Association on the spot where the original was signed by the founders of our country.

Every one of these copies will bear the name of the person to whom it is sent officially inscribed upon it as an evidence of that person's cooperation in the movement and as a souvenir of the Sesquicentennial Exposition, the whole bearing the authorization of Mayor W. Freeland Kendrick, President of the Sesquicentennial Exposition.

The U. S. Centennial Memorial Association already has a membership of over 15,000 living in every state in the country.

Irma Sees Killer in His Cell Before Court

Chicago, June 8—(AP)—Irma Sullivan Durkin, who has been proclaiming her love for Martin Durkin, killer and automobile thief, met him today for the first time, since his trial started a week ago. She chose a time before the resumption of court and met him in the cell room adjoining the court room where the process of jury selection is proceeding. They kissed through the bars.

Durkin had not seen his bride since a meeting in the court pail several weeks ago. The prisoner who is charged with the murder of Edwin Shanahan, a federal agent, declared the young woman's declarations had reassured him.

Only four jurors have thus far been sworn in, but special venires of 100 men have been summoned for the next four court days, including Monday.

ORIENTALS WILL BE BARRED FROM OTHER COUNTRIES

Such is Prediction Wis. University Sociologist in Address

Jacksonville, Ill., June 9—(AP)—A barrier against the Oriental will be raised by the principal countries of the civilized world, to prevent the lowering of living standards, Prof. E. A. Ross, University of Wisconsin sociologist, predicted today.

The chief speaker of the day was Mr. A. C. Everingham of Huntington, Illinois who has for many years been a prominent lecturer in Illinois and is especially well liked by farm audiences. He is at present engaged by the State Farm Bureau, The Illinois Agricultural Association, in organizing the farmers of the state in support of the proposed tax amendment to the Illinois State Constitution.

Science, by conquering disease and prolonging life has created a real problem of population, most acute in the Orient, he said, where they are not following the example of "enlightened" peoples of the world in cutting down the size of their families.

"As their death rate falls, they will constantly produce a surplus which cannot make a living at home and which will overflow into the channels of overseas emigration," Prof. Ross continued. "If the Asiatics enjoy the privilege of unloading their surplus upon other less crowded peoples, it might well be a century before they learn the lesson of curbing their birth rate. In the meantime, the floods of emigration from Asia would reproduce in other parts of the world, the overcrowding and misery so characteristic of China and India."

Prof. Ross does not believe, however, that the advanced peoples of Europe and America will allow their standards of living to be lowered, and upon this, is predicted his prediction that they will bar the Oriental.

Others to Follow U. S.

"The example of the United States in barring mass immigration from the Orient will become general in Europe and the Americas as already it has been adopted in Australia and South Africa," he predicted.

Asserting that it is impossible to say whether the barrier will cause war, Prof. Ross warns that they should be excluded solely upon the laws of population and not upon the theory of inferiority of Asiatic races.

"Nor should it hamper the movement of culture seekers," he added. "Scholars and students should be free to seek knowledge in any part of the globe."

"It may be that humanity will revise its notions of the natural right of men to emigrate and will recognize the day is past when a people can multiply heedlessly trusting that some other people will take care of its overflow," Prof. Ross asserted.

The population problem has been increased through the progress made in the past 50 years in combating the slayers of life-diseases. As a result, he said, death rates have been cut in two in that period in "intelligent societies." Our population is growing as never before, Prof. Ross said. "At its present rate of population of the globe now twice what it was 90 years ago, will double in 60 years. In two centuries the world's population would be ten times what it is now."

"If Adam and Eve had been set down on an uninhabited globe no farther back than the reign of Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius, in 165 A. D. and steadily multiplied at the present day rate, they would be the progenitors of the earth's population today."

Must Curtail Births

"It is obvious that we cannot continue bringing human beings into this world at the old rate if they are to leave this world at half the old rate," said Prof. Ross. "If we are to have national death rates of 12 per 1,000 per annum, we cannot continue birth rates of 40 per 1,000 per annum without in a very short time becoming as crowded as are the Chinese."

The enlightened peoples are realizing the new situation and are cutting down the family size so that there is no likelihood that they will foolishly multiply themselves into over-population and wretchedness. The great problem is the Orient. There, on account of early marriage, complete subjection of women and religious ideas which put a premium on big families, the Asiatic peoples for a long time to come will multiply blindly."

Lloyd George Victor in Liberal Party Quarrel London, June 9—(AP)—David Lloyd George has been victorious in his conflict with the Earl of Oxford and Asquith growing out of the latter's criticism of Lloyd George's refusal to condemn the recent general strike.

At a meeting yesterday of the Liberal parliamentary party, Lloyd George's attitude was sustained by a vote of 20 to 12, which means that he will retain the chairmanship of the party in the House of Commons. The vote, however, showed that the Liberal party had been split into two sections, which will follow, respectively, the leaderships of Lloyd George and Lord Oxford.

Apparently, the vote indicated also that Lord Oxford had rejected the advice of numerous members of the party to seek reconciliation with Lloyd George.

Reconciliations are now passing between the two sections of the Liberal press.

Unemployment in Great Britain is Now Serious London, June 9—(AP)—The latest official returns on unemployment in Great Britain show a serious increase in the number of persons out of work during May. Apart from the coal miners, the total unemployed on May 2 was 1,105,916, but on May 31 the number had risen to 1,614,200.

An unofficial estimate of the total unemployed today, including miners, is 2,720,000.

low the legislature the power to re-adjust the taxing system so as to distribute taxes upon other forms of wealth that are not now taxable and thus relieve part of the tax upon farm property and homes which are now bearing an unjust share. Farm property which constitutes 40 percent of the wealth in the state now pays 85 percent of the tax. The critical situation regarding taxes is shown by Mr. Everingham's statement that this year in Illinois 60 percent of the taxes were paid with borrowed money.

The speaker gave the Farm Bureau a large measure of credit for the fact that agricultural problems have recently been brought to the attention of the public as never before, an accomplishment which alone would have justified every dollar that has been spent in the Farm Bureau for the last 10 years.

"Midwestern Consciousness" Needed

The subject of marketing the surplus was dealt with and the speaker exhorted the farmers and city people of the middle west to work in harmony for the building of a "Mid Western Consciousness" which would be able to stand against the solid industrial influence of the east in the national problem of the welfare of agriculture.

Mrs. W. W. Ramsey of Chicago, well known Institute speaker, addressed the ladies session in the morning and spoke briefly in the afternoon on the subject of forming public opinion on matters of agricultural importance. Her chief point was that all business groups should be given a correct understanding of agricultural problems and cooperate for their mutual benefit without interference by partisan politics.

Music by Forreston Quartette

During the luncheon hour and at the opening of the afternoon session music was furnished in a most pleasant way by the Forreston double male quartette who have gained a fine reputation for their singing at several community affairs. One of their members, Mr. Ruffner of Freeport, led the community singing in a way that was very much enjoyed. Mr. Oscar Barnes of the Schiller Piano Co. accompanying Mrs. Harner of Lindenwood, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Perry, delighted the audience with several solo numbers.

Officers Elected

At the annual business session reports were given by the standing committees on Legislation, Taxation and Collections. The farm advisor reported the activities of the past year showing that remarkable results had been obtained in the major Farm Bureau projects of Corn Improvement, Hog Sanitation, Soil Improvement, Community Organization and Membership.

Officers for the following year were chosen by ballot, resulting as follows: President, G. A. Lazier of Rochelle; Vice-President, Elmer Vietmeier of For-

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Four inspectors have been sent out by the Division of Plant Industry of the State Department of Agriculture to check up on delinquent thistle commissioners in the 102 counties of the state.

This move was prompted, officials said, by the increase of Canada thistle patches in the state.

JOHN ERICSSON LEAGUE ATTACKED BY DEM. LEADERS

Called Effort to Make Political Capital of Royal Visit

Washington, June 9—(AP)—Organization of the John Ericsson Republican League of America was criticized by the Democratic national committee in a statement today as an effort to make political capital for republican candidates out of the presence in this country of the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden.

The job appears to have been set up as deliberately as disturbance over primary elections would permit. Col. Oscar N. Solbert, who has been aide to President Coolidge, was chosen to manage the tour of the royal couple in this country, and was then "unanimously" chosen head of the John Ericsson Republican League of America.

Representative Carl R. Chinnibom, of Illinois, amiable administration man, attended the meeting at which the organization was effected, christened it with a speech, and presumably conveyed a blessing.

At the unveiling of the Ericsson memorial, the President found the number of American citizens of Swedish descent to be about 2,000,000 and next day the organizers gathered to form a republican league.

President has vetoed the effort to capitalize their presence by organizing, on partisan lines, voters of or Swedish descent. It is a great pity that the distinguished visitors to whom the nation is host were so embarrassed that it became advisable to publish the following in the Washington Star:

Quote Prince's Statement

"Members of the crown prince's official entourage disclaimed knowledge of the league's creation or motives and declared that it was the firm intention of the Prince to evade everything of political nature throughout his stay in this country."

Solbert, who has been aide to President Coolidge, was chosen to manage the tour of the royal couple in this country, and was then "unanimously" chosen head of the John Ericsson Republican League of America.

Representative Carl R. Chinnibom, of Illinois, amiable administration man, attended the meeting at which the organization was effected, christened it with a speech, and presumably conveyed a blessing.

At the unveiling of the Ericsson memorial, the President found the number of American citizens of Swedish descent to be about 2,000,000 and next day the organizers gathered to form a republican league."

MORE DAIRY CATTLE.

This has been the best year since 1920 in point of demand for pure bred dairy cattle, C. S. Rhode of the dairy extension department of the Illinois college of agriculture has reported.

The National Holstein association has received five inquiries this year to one received a year ago. Guernsey, Jersey and Brown Swiss demands have been increased, although not in the same proportion.

Dairy interests did not decline to the degree experienced in general farming operations, but they lagged along with the general depression. It is reasonable to presume that dairying may be overdone in comparison with demand for products, but the time has not yet arrived when the agricultural experts have found it advisable to urge any curtailment. During the last fifteen years efforts have been made to induce more farmers to keep dairy cattle.

In the dairy sections the fertility of the soil has been maintained. The cream check, which comes to the farmer regularly, has been a year-round, dependable income. The dairy farmer kept going when others failed. These are the arguments used by the college authorities in urging an extension of this field of operation.

Grain farming requires less labor. Small grain requires labor at the time of seeding, harvesting and threshing. Corn requires labor at the time of planting, cultivating and picking. When the number of days are computed they are a small part of the 365. The investment is the other large element in the production of grain.

It is the care of stock on the farm that provides the year-round job. The tendency toward less labor has given room for the farmer who is ready to give more labor for more profit. The dairy farmer puts more into his occupation and as a rule gets more out.

The Big Four railroad recently sent a dairy train from Danville to Cairo. Nine calf clubs were organized on this trip, through co-operation of farm bureaus. To them and to clubs previously formed 182 calves were distributed.

LEST WE FORGET.

To be successful there must be common sense and wise diplomacy even in politics. Way back in the old wet days, the wets frequently controlled local, sometimes state elections, when the drys split up, dividing their strength between two or more candidates. Now it is hinted that the Anti-Saloon league and other dry organizations are becoming peeved at the Coolidge administration, though the president is as good a friend as the drys have in important office. Should the president become the republican party candidate for re-election in 1928, the democrats are sure to nominate against him a pronounced wet. Then to elect the wet it will be necessary only for the radical drys to pull away from Coolidge and name a candidate of their own. Such a candidate would have no ghost of a chance of election, but he would become at once a wet assistant of such importance as to assure the election of the wet.

GOSSIP.

Gossips are blamed for the murder of a woman in the town of Beaver City, Neb., said to have been poisoned by a neighbor woman.

The accused woman and her husband had to move twice because of gossips, they told officials, and the wagging tongues seem finally to have led to a misunderstanding that resulted in murder.

There's nothing much you can say about gossip. Everybody condemns it and most everybody does it. There's no way to stop it.

Fortunately, however, really intelligent people don't do it.

Well, another American has gone to the north pole and returned the visit which it paid us last winter.

There are enough amateur golfers in the United States to end the British coal strike.

Woman poisoned her husband in Chicago, but then she had been married to him for fifteen years.

Coolidge, president, went cruising on the Potomac. He's so quiet we would enjoy going fishing with him.

It's a wise pawnbroker who locates next to a bootlegging joint.

Some people are so silly they worry even when they haven't any almost grown daughters.

Hailstones as large as baseballs may have fallen in Dallas, Tex. Anyway, the people there claim they did.

Just about every man we meet hopes to be out of debt along about next fall or by the first of the year.

Uncle Joe Cannon has a birthday now and then, but they never seem to worry him at all.

When you think the world is all wrong the chances are it is because you need a shave or a haircut.

A good sport is a fellow who doesn't mind being worried.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 9—THE STRETCHY POLICEMAN

NEW SCHEME TO SUPPRESS CRIME
IN THIS NATIONDeclaration of Independence in Every Home is Proposed

President Coolidge has issued a proclamation calling for a nation wide celebration of the Sesquicentennial of the Declaration of Independence, during the week, June 28 to July 5. It will be known as Independence Week. And now forty-eight Governors, Chief Executives of every state in the Union, have joined together in an Honorary Board which has for its object the placing of a facsimile of the Declaration of Independence in every home and school room in the land.

It is part of a movement projected by the U. S. Centennial Association of Philadelphia, under the auspices of the Sesquicentennial Exposition, of which W. Freeland Kendrick, Mayor of Philadelphia, is President, and it is hoped when it gets under full swing that it will go far toward suppressing crime waves and promoting a greater reverence for the old fashioned home.

The roster of the Association includes names of many well known personages, who, alive to what they conceive to be a warning reverence for old fashioned patriotism on the part of the younger generation, are taking this method of reviving it by asking everyone everywhere to help the cause.

By insisting on the preservation of historic memorials, by urging a more intimate knowledge of the Nation's history, by stressing the sacredness of the right of franchise, by arguing the legal involved in observance of all laws—short, by projecting a campaign of 100 percent patriotism, the Association hopes to erect a new standard of conduct for all citizens that should have potent effect on public morale in general.

Already the movement is attracting attention in widely distant parts of the country. Thousands of letters promising cooperation and support have been received in Association Headquarters in Independence Square, Philadelphia, from which place the movement is being conducted with the idea of making it National in scope.

Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, has already issued a proclamation calling on all the people of that state to "cooperate in distributing copies of the Declaration of Independence to the homes and public institutions."

Governors of other states are arranging to do the same by that time it gets in full swing it should have a country wide significance.

Letters have been received from fraternal organizations, patriotic societies, banks and trust companies, news papers, mercantile organizations, which have arranged to hang copies of the Declaration of Independence upon the walls of their offices and who are advising employees to obtain copies for use in their homes.

It is proposed also to erect a splendid monument to Independence (there isn't any) which is to be placed adjacent to Independence Hall, Philadelphia, that shrine of American liberty where the original document was signed and which contains the historic Liberty Bell.

Boys and girls, as well as their elders, will be asked to form themselves into companies, working everywhere for the great idea the prizes will probably be offered for the champion worker for patriotism in each community. Lectures will be held. Movies will be shown. Parades will be held, and in every way an effort will be put forth to make the occasion of the Sesquicentennial the greatest demonstration of American patriotism held in the memory of living men.

It is expected that before the Sesquicentennial Exposition has passed into history, millions of homes will contain a certified copy of the Declaration of Independence and this with the rest of the program now being worked out by the Association will be the beginning of a wave of true Americanism that should have tremendous effect upon the public welfare.

To every person taking part in the movement there will be issued a facsimile of the Declaration of Independence with a certificate that it is an exact reproduction of the original Declaration and that it has been issued by the U. S. Centennial Memorial Association on the spot where the original was signed by the founders of our country.

Every one of these copies will bear the name of the person to whom it is sent officially inscribed upon it as evidence of that person's cooperation in the movement and as a souvenir of the Sesquicentennial Exposition, the whole bearing the authorization of Mayor W. Freeland Kendrick, President of the Sesquicentennial Exposition.

The U. S. Centennial Memorial Association already has a membership of over 15,000 living in every state in the country.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Good Thoughts
for Good People

I made me great works; I builded houses; I planted me vineyards; I made me gardens and orchards.

I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasures of kings and of the provinces. So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem.

Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do; and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

As the sense of one's treasures, the infinite resources of Soul, is enlarged one manifests in his daily life a greater understanding of Life, Truth, and Love. And in his intercourse with his fellow-men he manifests the outcome of these—more of courtesy, kindness, consideration, patience, and

Chicago, June 8—(AP)—Irma Sullivan Durkin, who has been proclaiming her love for Martin Durkin, killer and automobile thief, met him to day for the first time, since his trial started a week ago. She chose a time before the resumption of court and met him in the cell room adjoining the court room where the process of jury selection is proceeding. They kissed through the bars.

Durkin had not seen his bride since a meeting in the county jail several weeks ago. The prisoner who is charged with the murder of Edwin Shanahan, a federal agent, declared the young woman's declarations of loyalty had reassured him.

Only four jurors have thus far been sworn in, but special venires of 100 men have been summoned for the next four court days, including Monday.

ORIENTALS WILL BE BARRED FROM OTHER COUNTRIES

Such is Prediction Wis. University Sociologist in Address

Jacksonville, Ill., June 9—(AP)—A barrier against the Oriental will be raised by the principal countries of the civilized world, to prevent the lowering of living standards, Prof. E. A. Ross, University of Wisconsin sociologist, predicted today.

Prof. Ross made the prediction in speaking today at the commencement exercises of Illinois College on "The World Crisis in Population."

Science, by conquering disease and prolonging life has created a real problem of population, most acute in the Orient, he said, where they are not following the example of "enlightened" peoples of the world in cutting down the size of their families.

"As their death rate falls, they will constantly produce a surplus which cannot make a living at home and which will overflow into the channels of overseas emigration," Prof. Ross continued. "If the Asiatics enjoy the privilege of unloading this surplus upon other less crowded peoples, it might well be a century before they learn the lesson of curbing their birth rate. In the meantime, the floods of emigration from Asia would reproduce in other parts of the world, the overcrowding and misery so characteristic of China and India."

Prof. Ross does not believe, however, that the advanced peoples of Europe and America will allow their standards of living to be lowered, and upon this, is predicted his prediction that they will bar the Oriental.

Others to Follow U. S.

"The example of the United States in barring mass immigration from the Orient will become general in Europe and the Americas as already it has been adopted in Australia and South Africa," he predicted.

Asserting that it is impossible to say whether the barrier will cause war, Prof. Ross warns that they should be excluded solely upon the theory of inferiority of Asiatic races.

"Nor should it hamper the movement of culture seekers," he added. "Scholars and students should be free to seek knowledge in any part of the globe."

"It may be that humanity will revise its notions of the natural right of men to emigrate and will recognize the day is past when a people can multiply heedlessly trusting that some other people will take care of its overflow," Prof. Ross asserted.

"The population problem has been increased through the progress made in the past 50 years in combatting the slayers of life-disease. As a result, he said, death rates have been cut in two in that period in intelligent societies. Our population is growing as never before, Prof. Ross said. "At its present rate of population of the globe now twice what it was 90 years ago, will double in 60 years. In two centuries the world's population would be ten times what it is now."

"If Adam and Eve had been set down on an uninhabited globe no farther back than the reign of Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius, in 155 A. D. and steadily multiplied at the present day rate, they would be the progenitors of the earth's population today."

Must Curtail Births

"It is obvious that we cannot continue bringing human beings into this world at the old rate if they are to leave the world at half the old rate," said Prof. Ross. "If we are to have national death rates of 12 per 1,000 per annum, we cannot continue birth rates of 40 per 1,000 per annum with out in a very short time becoming as crowded as are the Chinese."

The enlightened peoples are realizing the new situation and are cutting down the family size so that there is no likelihood that they will foolishly multiply themselves into over-population and wretchedness. The great problem is the Orient. There, on account of early marriage, complete subjection of women and religious ideas which put a premium on big families, the Asiatic peoples for a long time to come will multiply blindly."

Lloyd George Victor in Liberal Party Quarrel

London, June 9—(AP)—David Lloyd George has been victorious in his conflict with the Earl of Oxford and Asquith growing out of the latter's criticism of Lloyd George's refusal to condemn the recent general strike.

At a meeting yesterday of the Liberal parliamentary party, Lloyd George's attitude was sustained by a vote of 20 to 12, which means that he will retain the chairmanship of the party in the House of Commons. The vote, however, showed that the Liberal party had been split into two sections, which will follow, respectively, the leaderships of Lord George and Lord Oxford.

Apparently, the vote indicated also that Lord Oxford had rejected the advice of numerous members of the party to seek reconciliation with Lloyd George.

Recriminations are now passing between the two sections of the liberal press.

Unemployment in Great Britain is Now Serious

London, June 9—(AP)—The latest official returns on unemployment in Great Britain show a serious increase in the number of persons out of work during May. Apart from the coal miners, the total unemployed on May 3 was 1,105,916, but on May 31 the number had risen to 1,614,200.

An unofficial estimate of the total unemployed today, including miners, is 2,720,000.

News Picked Up in State Capital by Ass'd Press

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Four inspectors have been sent out by the Division of Plant Industry of the State Department of Agriculture to check up on delinquent thistle commissioners in the 102 counties of the state.

This move was prompted, officials said, by the increase of Canada thistle patches in the state.

An increase of nearly a million tons over April 1925 was reported, the total amount in April this year being 4,647,003, while the figure for the same month last year was 3,700,159.

Closing of a number of mines over April was reported to the State Department of Mines and Minerals by the creator of the Ironclad Monitor of Civil War fame, with President Coolidge and the Crown Prince taking part in the ceremonies.

Administration forces must have been still upset by recent primary results when the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Sweden came to take part in the unveiling of a memorial to John Ericsson.

"At the unveiling of the Ericsson memorial, the President found the number of American citizens of Swedish descent to be about 2,000,000 and next day the organizers gathered to form a republican league."

Sweden has vetoed the effort to capitalize their presence by organizing on partisan lines, voters of Swedish descent. It is a great pity that the distinguished visitors to whom the nation is host were so embarrassed that it became advisable to publish the following in the Washington Star:

Quote Prince's Statement

"Members of the crown prince's official entourage disclaimed knowledge of the league's creation or motives and declared that it was the firm intention of the Prince to evade everything of political nature through out his stay in this country."

"The job appears to have been set up as deliberately as disturbance over primary elections would permit. Col. Oscar N. Solbert, who has been aide to President Coolidge, was chosen to manage the tour of the royal couple in this country, and was then 'unanimously' chosen head of the John Ericsson Republican League of America." Representative Carl R. JOHN ERICSSON LEAGUE ATTACKED BY DEM. LEADERS

Called Effort to Make Political Capital of Royal Visit

Washington, June 9—(AP)—Organization of the John Ericsson Republican League of America was criticized by the Democratic national committee in a statement today as an effort to make political capital for republican candidates out of the presence in this country of the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden.

The league was formed here shortly after the dedication of the memorial to the creator of the Ironclad Monitor of Civil War fame, with President Coolidge and the Crown Prince taking part in the ceremonies.

Administration forces must have been still upset by recent primary results when the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Sweden came to take part in the unveiling of a memorial to John Ericsson.

RE-DISCOVERING ILLINOIS

By LESTER B. CROSBY

Illinois Chamber of Commerce

Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon church, was murdered on June 27, 1844, in Carthage, Illinois. I visited the little sandstone jail the other day. On the floor of the room in which Smith was shot are blackish stains. The venerable keeper of the one-time jail, now the property of the Mormon church, told me these black stains were made by Joseph Smith's lifeblood—still visible after eighty-two years!

The building stands much as it did in 1844 on that memorable night when a mob of white men, disguised as Indians, broke into the building to commit historic murder. The heavy stone door that swung shut on Smith has rusted from its hinges. It lies in front of the house where we stepped upon it from a motor car as we drove up.

They still talk of the "Mormon War" in Carthage, county seat of Hancock county. I shall not go much into the story of the Mormon war. Stories told by the Mormons are one thing; stories told by those who opposed them another.

The Mormon church was founded in 1830 in New York state by Joseph Smith, who had "visions." Following persecutions the Mormons moved to Missouri after temporary sojourn at Kirtland, O. They fled to Nauvoo, Ill., in 1838. Here on the Mississippi River they started a city and immediately became entangled in Illinois politics.

Nauvoo grew swiftly. Followers of Smith flocked in. At one time there were 15,000 people there. Today perhaps 1,200. It has no railroad. It is one of Illinois' ghost cities. A few Mormons still live hereabouts. Traces of the old homes they built exist. Vineyards grow on the hills. Farmers today still turn up foundation stones as they guide their plowshares. Mostly the wells the Mormons dug have been filled. The manufacture of strawberry wine, once a famed beverage, is not quite a lost art.

Warsaw, one time arch enemy of Nauvoo, is down the river a few miles. Once Warsaw had 4,000 inhabitants; today 2,100. Dallas, up the river a bit from Nauvoo, still exists as a fishing town. It too has shrunk with the years.

Since the Mormon church bought the ancient jail it has become a Mecca to the elders of the Church of the Latter Day Saints who go out to preach the "Word." It is a legend in Carthage that every Mormon evangelist, when he starts out to search the world for converts, must first sleep one night in this house where Joseph Smith died.

A record book showed me that more than 300 of them thus came last year; about 250 the year before. And many of them drive over the few miles to Nauvoo where the elaborate old houses the Mormons built, mostly of brick or stone, many now vacant, are slowly crumbling and falling down.

Little of the hate that once ruled the passions in Hancock county still lives. Citizens say that their fathers, now gone, related strange stories of the Mormons; how Smith would have visions that some man's cattle should be seized for the church and that they were seized; how he might cast eye on some gatler's daughter, fair of face and form and that she would be taken and whisked to Nauvoo.

They recall a bit how warrants sworn out in Missouri charged Smith with plots to murder; how he became so strong in Illinois politically that he snapped his fingers at the law; how he finally declared himself a candidate for the presidency of the United States; how he was charged in an indictment with treason; how he was arrested—the murderer.

They relate that after this murder all the gentiles taking part in it fled eastward, crossing the Illinois river, and how the Mormons, fearing attack, fled west and crossed the Mississippi. They say that the factions filtered back into the country.

More strife, sudden deaths in a sort of gang war, the breaking of the Mormon power and finally the retreat west, to Utah, under command of Brigham Young who had seized control. Two years after Joseph Smith's death Nauvoo was almost deserted.

Hancock county today is a quiet agricultural community. Rough and hilly in spots there are places where farming is hard. There are also rich valleys and richer bottom lands. Concrete roads have been delayed but they are coming in.

Carthage, county seat, is in almost the exact center of the county. It has about 2,500 inhabitants. The little city appears to be prosperous. Branch lines of the Wabash and Burlington railroad systems make junction here.

Ambition to take on citified ways has been given birth. Carthage has raised $350,000 for public improvements in the last three years. It is damming a stream to insure plentiful water supply. Well water, as in many other Western Illinois towns, is impregnated with minerals, mostly iron.

Carthage College is here with its 421 students this year. Townspeople mentioned with some pride that almost every young farmer in Hancock county is a college man—either by graduation or at least from having "a couple of years" at the school. Girls of the countryside? They pretty generally graduate. For, you see, the cost is low.

Dollars do larger work than in the bigger centers. Rooms in the dormitories come at surprising low cost; $5 to $62 a year being the price for a modern and orderly, heated room with running water in it! The school, operated in Carthage since 1879, was started by eleven hopeful citizens who had various church affiliations or none at all.

Industrially no great strides have been made by Carthage. There is quite a bit of talk about horses. Trotters and pacers jog around the race track; runners do daily workouts. The county fair is one of the prides of Carthage. I was shown a race-battered relic and they told me that this almost-white and also-whiskered steed, now stiff and bony, is what remains of the once famous "Iron Horse."

"He raced more races than any horse that ever lived," I was told. I forgot to put down his name and so

The building, which was designed by Childs and Smith, architects of Chicago, will be more like a home in appearance than a public building. In general the exterior will be of brick to the roof line, with half-timbered gables. It will set low, with the first floor on the ground level. The new building will be for social and recreation rooms, meeting rooms for student committees, and offices for the secretaries. The physical features usual in the city type of Y. M. C. A., such as, gymnasium and swimming pool, are provided by the University.

John Wanamaker Paid Tribute to Newspapers

The late John Wanamaker once paid a tribute to newspaper advertising which is worth recalling occasionally. In discussing his early days in business, during which he laid the foundation for his career as America's leading merchant prince, he said:

"Our little allowance of advertising money went to the newspapers then, as it does nearly altogether today, because if I ever have a monument for discovering anything, it will be for finding out that the only advertising of direct and instant benefit to both merchant and customer is in the newspaper of known circulation. All others are vanity and vexation of spirit. To have learned this fact has greatly helped my enterprises, though often there has been serious discomfiture in saying so publicly and in breaking away from posters and leaflets."

MODERN IDEAS OF MARRIAGE SPLIT SULTAN'S HOUSE

Girls Leave Home When Dad Objects to Weddings

Manila, June 9.—(AP)—The Mohammedian household of the Sultan of Sulu has been rudely upset by the invasion of occidental, non-Moslem ideas of love and marriage. Two adopted daughters of this oriental potentate have left the parental roof because he objected to the men of their choice, and a third is to depart soon to become the bride of a prince of the federated Malay states.

Princess Tarhata, who spent five years at the University of Illinois, and is said to have been the first Moro girl to bob her hair, disagreed with the Sultan over her engagement to Dato Tahil, member of the provincial board. She left home.

Princess Emme, engaged to a Christian Filipino, also became estranged from her adopted father and sought quarters outside the Sultan's residence.

The Sultan is said to have objected strongly to these two matches because the prospective husbands were unable to supply the dowries customary before marriage.

The third princess, Dayang Dayang, expects to leave to wed the Malay Prince, and to live in Singapore.

The Moro Sultan has no children. The three princesses are his nieces, children of his brothers and were adopted years ago.

CHICAGO'S MAJOR TEAMS BOUND TO LAND SOMEWHERE

Seen! Determined to Stay in Race; Fight Hard to Keep Place

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unexpectedly strong contention for major league pennants is being developed in the western corners of the circuit, as the long battle through the heat of July and August approaches.

Chicago, after several seasons of reverses, seems determined to land somewhere. The White Sox, fighting Philadelphia desperately for second position, sent Urban "Red" Faber to the lists against "Lefty" Grove yesterday, and won 1-0, the veteran of the flaming hair turning in a six hit performance only after his brilliant adversary had weakened in the ninth.

At the same time Charley Root of the Cubs turned back the New York Giants with six safeties and won the verdict, 2-1, materially aided by Charley Grimm's home run. Pep Young's four base hits in the eighth gave New York its only run. The Cubs are battling Pittsburgh for second place in the National.

Red Beaten Again

Cincinnati, which holds circuit leadership at present, went down before the Boston Braves for the fourth straight time, 8-7, in eleven innings. It was a slugfest, in which the Braves hit safely 15 times and the Red 13. Andy High and Jack Taylor linked a single and double for the winning counter.

Pittsburgh remained in the running by defeating Brooklyn, 4-3. Kiki Cuyler scoring the tying run in the eighth after running wildly around the base paths all afternoon.

Babe Ruth's eleventh inning homer, his second of the contest, gave the Yankees a victory over Detroit, 11-9, the Yanks getting 16 blows and the Tigers 14.

After Washington had tied the score in a ninth-inning rally, Cleveland came through to win in its half, 5-4. Pitcher Leyson's double brought the winning score.

Boston errors gave the St. Louis Browns a verdict, 6-5. The Sisters scoring four times in the 1st on three singles and two misplays.

SPORT BRIEFS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richard Schikat of Germany and Jack Taylor of Wyoming, wrestled one hour to a draw in a match at San Francisco. Ivan Poddubny, Russia, won over Pat O'Donnell of Ireland in 16 minutes and 28 seconds with a wrist lock.

Roland Locke is keyed for the big test, Coach Henry Schulte declared, prior to the University of Nebraska track men's departure from Lincoln today for the National Collegiate Championships at Chicago on Friday and Saturday. Other members of the Nebraska squad are Bobbie Stephens, broad jumper, Walter Kriemelmeyer, shot putter; Pearly Wyatt, and Frank Daly, quarter miler, and Jack Ross, miler.

Their number narrowed to eight by Tuesday's first round of match play, the survivors of the fifty-four women golf stars of the Missouri Valley, who on Monday started in quest of the valley links crown, entered the second round over the Omaha field club course today.

"It might have been worse" was the feeling among the American professional golfers who looked over the figures of their play at Formby, near Liverpool, yesterday prior to setting out on today's second round of eighteen holes in the British Northern Professional championship.

Edward Payson Weston, who first won fame as a long distance pedestrian by walking from Boston to Washington to attend Lincoln's first inauguration, was found on the streets of New York early today in a dazed condition, and sent to Bellevue Hospital. Mr. Weston, who is 88, was poorly clad, and unable to explain his presence to a patrolman, who found him.

A rushing attack, constant pressing, with liberal use of his famed left hand, is the method best suited to Paul Berlebach's defense of his light heavyweight boxing title against Young Stribling of Atlanta, Ga., at the Yankee Stadium in New York tomorrow night, in the opinion of boxing followers. As the time for the 15 round battle approaches, it appears that the men will enter the ring on even terms.

Tex Rickard has been granted a license as match maker at the Yankee Stadium, which for boxing purposes will be known as the Rickard Sporting Club. There is a significance in the award, for it places Rickard directly under the jurisdiction of the New York State Athletic Commission. His status previous to the granting of the license was in question.

BOXER IS SUSPENDED

New York, June 8—(AP)—Ruby Goldstein, sensational New York lightweight, was suspended indefinitely today by the State Athletic Commission after claiming that illness prevented him from boxing Mike Dundee of Rock Island, Ill., at the Coney Island Stadium this Friday.

RELEASES AND TRADES MARKED DAY IN LEAGUES

Cubs Figure in Deals to Strengthen Team for Hard Fight

New York, June 9—(AP)—Baseball sales, releases, rumors of impending trades, and balking players, gave a tinge of variety to today's baseball news.

The Detroit American League team has purchased Arlie Wilbur Cooper, southpaw pitcher of the Chicago Cubs, at a price reported to be in excess of the waiver price. Cooper had won two games and lost one with the feets this season.

Cooper has been in the major leagues 1912 when he was bought by Pittsburgh from Columbus of the American Association.

The unconditional release of Pitcher Carl Mays of the Cincinnati Reds will be read by Manager Jack Hendricks, according to word received in Cincinnati from Boson. Mays, who has seen more than ten years' big league service, has been waived by all major clubs.

Word was received in Chicago that Shapton of the Cubs had refused to go to the Indianapolis club, which purchased his contract on Monday.

There are strong rumors that Charley Grimm soon will leave the Cubs, but no confirmation can be had of the report.

Two Marks Considered Safe in Track Events

Chicago, June 9—(AP)—Only in the broad jump and the pole vault are world records exempt from molestation by athletes who will compete in field events at the National Collegiate Championships at Chicago on Friday and Saturday. Other members of the Nebraska squad are Bobbie Stephens, broad jumper, Walter Kriemelmeyer, shot putter; Pearly Wyatt, and Frank Daly, quarter miler, and Jack Ross, miler.

A Grouch Not Wanted

There is nothing so harmful to success as being a grouch. Stomach, liver and intestinal troubles make one grouchy. MAYRS will help overcome these and usually gives complete results.

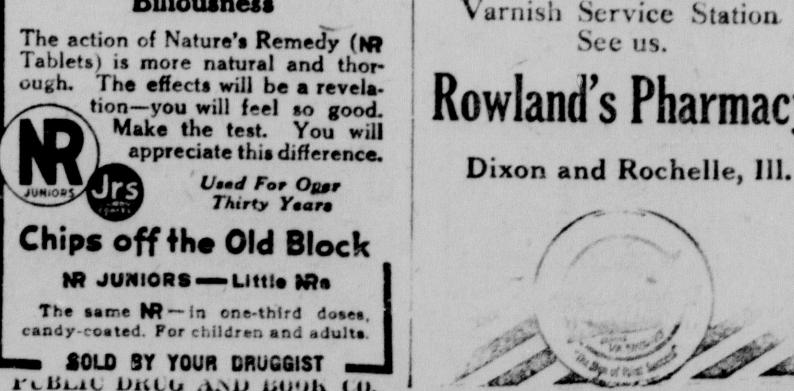

Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and relieves the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. JOHN SPRECKELS, CAPITALIST AND PHILANTHROPIST

Aged Sugar Magnate is Dead at His Home in California

San Diego, Calif., June 9—(AP)—Funeral services will be held here today for John Diedrich Spreckels, 73, capitalist who died Monday after a long illness. The services will be held at the Spreckels Coronado home. The body will be cremated.

Spreckels, son of Claus Spreckels who branched out of the grocery business to lay the foundation for the Spreckels fortune in the sugar industry, found time while working for his father to start a shipping enterprise which developed into the present Oceanic Steamship company.

The son of the "Sugar King" began his industrial education at the bottom. From humble positions he studied every department. The need for ships in the development of the sugar trade which his father—a power in west coast industry—had pioneered in California and the Hawaiian Islands led him to form a shipping concern of his own.

Built First Fleet

In 1880, he built the first of his commercial fleet. He put these vessels in the Hawaiian trade and later extended their scope to include Samoa, the Fiji islands and Australia.

Mr. Spreckels' shipping efforts primarily were for public benefit. In addition to his philanthropies he rendered public service in practical ways such as developing a water system for sale to a city, improving a railway which was not rendering adequate public service and financing railway construction when territorial development of communities was handicapped by lack of transportation outlet.

As the years passed, Mr. Spreckels branched out into many other lines of endeavor until his enterprises included the Western Sugar Refining company, the Spreckels Sugar Company, the Pan-Pacific Valley and the San Diego Electric Railway Companies, the San Diego & Arizona Railway, the San Diego Union and Tribune company, banking houses and hotels.

He was one of those who made the Panama-California Exposition in 1915 possible and in addition contributed to it a beautiful outdoor organ on which concerts still are played daily.

In sugar and shipping circles, he was known in most of the principal ports of the continent, particularly in

SYNOPSIS

Mutually attracted, beautiful Betty Chayney arrives in Hollywood as prize winners of newspaper contests for movie trophys. Marshall, reported to be responsible for many of the "broken hearts of Hollywood," takes an interest in Betty. Hal and Betty are depressed and amazed by the number of people seeking work. Movie oldtimers see a mysterious resemblance in Betty to someone they cannot remember. Betty is handed a scanty one-piece bathing suit to don while Hal, who never rode a horse, finds himself cast with a bunch of real cowboys who realize he is a greenhorn and bait him.

The director's satellites took up the cry now, "Let's go!" and herded the nonchalant roughnecks into the saloon; but not a one of the latter was at all impressed by either the dignity of the director or the pleas and cajolings of the assistants. They went about things in their own, sweet, experienced way.

Hal's confidence and imitative sangfroid had deserted him now as diphtheritic melts before the antiseptic. He shook—but he gritted his teeth and resolved to watch the others, and do as they did or die. And those rascally roughnecks, instead of taking pity on the boy's pathetic inexperience, took huge delight in waiting for his downfall.

Their sense of humor was amply rewarded, and before long, For what ensued was a matter of studio chronicle and anecdote for the full traditional nine days of wonder.

"Girls, here's another papa's darling come to play in pictures."

When Hal got inside the saloon set doorway he found it, like Mother Hubbard's cupboard, bare; a "flat" placed opposite the doorway and windows, where the camera angle from the outside included those apertures, gave a pictorial sense of a complete interior. However, as there were no interior shots of this saloon called for in the picture, the inside remained nothing but a puzzle of fallen props and debris and studding.

Skinner, famous star of "Westerns" whom Hal had worshipped on the screen back in Centipede, stood in the center of the set alone in all his formal glory, disdainful to notice any of the genuine cowpunchers. As for him, his cowpunching had been confined to a barber shop back in Hoboken. But he had entered the pictures twelve years ago, when miracles were more frequent than now. Hal forgot his trembling for a moment to thrill at his first sight of a great star in the flesh; Hal did not share the ribald contempt of the real cowpunchers around him, who made caustic comments under their breath on "Old Lady Legs," as Skinner was known to them.

Then things began to happen—and so fast that Hal forever after had but a faint and jumbled recollection of their sequence. At a bark from the director outside, Skinner dashed carefully out of the saloon. During a long instant which Hal felt must be akin to that undergone by a man just strapped into the electric chair and awaiting the jolt of the juice, everyone fell silent and tensed for action. It came—the shot! Yelling like madmen, gesticulating with all the fervor and ability that long experience had taught them would register "uprighteous Western wrath" upon the screen, the cowboys surged and tumbled out of the saloon door.

With a roaring and shouting hoofs as the stampeded horses, unthatched, reared and plunged and were yanked and directed into the proper course, the vaulting cowboys mounted and charged away. Hal, with his heart almost stop-

Oregon Man Nominated for Shipping Board

Washington, June 8—(AP)—Jefferson Meyers of Oregon was nominated today by President Coolidge to be a member of the Shipping Board.

HAVE a Gas Stove and a Gas Plant —All in One!

NOW you can have the stove you've so often wished for—a stove that gives you all the conveniences and comforts of a city gas range. It's the Coleman Cooker—a gas range and gas plant all in one! We have them.

Coleman Cookers

Make their own Gas

The Coleman gives you full cooking heat in 60 seconds! The flame is intensely hot—a clean, blue flame without smoke or soot. Boils 2 quarts of water or bakes light, flaky, golden-brown biscuits in 4 to 6 minutes. Keeps your kitchen clean and cool.

Only 2 cents worth of fuel cooks the average meal on the Coleman. Our customers say they never saw such a wonderful stove—so safe, handy and clean. Fuel is common motor gasoline, under pressure. Coleman Cookers are made in various sizes and models to fit every need and every purse. Step in and see them!

"MAD DOG" CRY SENT OUT FROM STATE BUREAU

State Director Health Asks Enforcement of the Muzzling Laws

Springfield—With hydrophobia prevalent among dogs and live stock to an almost alarming extent and danger to humans, especially children, growing in proportion to the increase in the number of "mad dogs," Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, has issued a warning advising county and municipal officials throughout the state to adopt and rigidly enforce muzzling ordinances.

Laboratory tests at Springfield have showed rabies in 40 animal heads during the first five months of this year against 60 in the whole of 1925 and 39 in 1924 and only 1 in 1923. One human death has been reported this year with several score persons under treatment as a result of bites.

"Rabies or hydrophobia has increased strikingly throughout the entire United States during recent months," said Dr. Rawlings. "This disease was an important subject of discussion at a recent meeting of state health officers in Washington where a resolution favoring uniform interstate control measures was adopted."

Agents were sent from Washington eight weeks ago on the discovery of a counterfeit internal revenue stamp used in sealing whiskey bottles. Clues led them to the sixth floor of a building in the heart of the lithographing and engraving district on Rose Street, which they reached by climbing a fire escape. Copper plates two pressed and a large quantity of liquor labels were also seized.

"Not only has rabies increased in prevalence but the disease is moving northward. In 1924 only 2 out of the 39 positive tests were of animals captured north of Sangamon county while 5 out of 40 of those made at Springfield this year and 7 of those made at Urbana were north of Sangamon county.

"Significant losses of sheep, cattle, hogs and horses have been incurred this year because of roaming 'mad dogs.' Children and other persons are more apt to be exposed in warm weather because they stay out of doors more. For these reasons it is important both economically and from a health standpoint to institute a rigid campaign against rabies.

"Muzzling is the most practical of all control measures against hydrophobia. Everybody can see whether or not a dog is muzzled but nobody can determine by sight whether a dog has been immunized against rabies. Denmark and England have both succeeded in completely eradicating rabies by rigidly enforcing muzzling laws over limited periods although the disease has been reintroduced in England by an animal that escaped quarantine when transported in an airplane. If a muzzling ordinance were rigidly and uniformly enforced throughout Illinois for 90 days, rabies would be eliminated from the state until reintroduced from outside territory."

FUTURE AT LABOR MEET

New York, June 8—(AP)—Hugh Frayne, national organizer of the American Federation of Labor, caused a furor at a testimonial luncheon today to Will H. Hays, motion picture and his organization were opposed to "Czar" when he announced that he and his organization were opposed to ticket scalping, top-price motion picture theaters and to women of "unpleasant notoriety" appearing in films.

He said the American Federation of Labor would do its utmost to combat these conditions, going to the extreme if necessary, of advising its members to refuse to work in theaters or studios where the management countenances ticket scalping or the production of films with "notorious persons" as the stars.

Galesburg to Sponsor Road Opening Festival

Galesburg—Mayor E. W. Mureen has appointed the entire city council on a committee to plan a celebration when the Knoxville and Abingdon hard roads are opened next month. State officials will be invited to the affair.

Previously, the court had declined to consolidate the Michigan and Wisconsin cases, but the order provides that Michigan's appearance should have the same effect as though they were consolidated. The court also re serves the right to consolidate the cases if it deemed it advisable.

Concrete Street pavement gives the same enduring service as the concrete road

Kankakee's Concrete Streets Have the Strength of Skyscrapers

Twelve years ago Kankakee, Illinois, found that even then increased motor traffic was beginning to break down certain streets.

Local authorities and leading property owners decided to inaugurate a program of permanent paving.

Before the end of 1914 the city completed a substantial yardage of concrete streets.

These streets presented such a fine appearance, and caused so much favorable comment from property owners that more concrete was laid the following year.

Kankakee's concrete paving has proved in strenuous service that under its good looks it has the same unyielding strength which makes the great dams, canals and skyscrapers of America the wonder of the world.

That is why Kankakee is building thousands of square yards of concrete streets every year.

Concrete street pavement will meet all traffic requirements in any town or city, and do so with very little maintenance.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.
